

Clare Boothe Luce

Dear Friend,

I urge you to take just 60 seconds to sign your enclosed Note of Support to Sarah Palin and rush it back to me in tomorrow's mail.

One of country's most impressive conservative leaders - Alaska Governor Sarah Palin - is under vicious attack.

Why? Because she's a powerful woman who's also a conservative.

And that drives the liberals crazy.

The Left has unleashed a barrage of mean-spirited and shocking attacks against Gov. Sarah Palin:

-  A spokesperson for the National Organization of Women called Sarah Palin "more a conservative man than she is a woman."
-  Columnist Andrew Sullivan and others bizarrely and falsely claimed that Sarah Palin's youngest son was not Sarah's own child.
-  And a New York Times columnist even compared Palin to "a fatal cancer."

You see, liberals in the media and in Washington, D.C. have decided that women who don't agree with them aren't really women at all.

And they've let Sarah Palin face the full brunt of their anger.

Even more incredibly, as soon as Sarah Palin emerged on the national scene, shrill liberals lined up to smear Sarah Palin's good name:

Phone: 703-318-0730 Web: www.cblpi.org

>>> Florida Congressman Alcee Hastings said about Gov. Palin, "Anybody toting guns and stripping moose don't care too much about what they do with Jews and blacks."

>>> Florida Congressman John Lewis said Palin reminded him of racial segregationist George Wallace.

>>> South Carolina Democratic Party Chairman Carol Fowler announced Palin's primary qualification "seems to be that she never had an abortion."

And don't forget that Barack Obama was referring to Sarah Palin when he famously said, "You can put lipstick on a pig. It's still a pig."

Sarah Palin has served as Governor for two years -- the same amount of experience that Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson had before becoming President.

But of course, the liberal media went all out to paint this accomplished mayor, businesswoman, and governor as "inexperienced," "dumb," and "a right-wing extremist."

All while Sarah Palin was attracting record crowds and speaking out for our conservative principles, the mainstream media was trying to hurt Palin with their biased coverage.

I wouldn't alert you if these slanders against Sarah Palin were just election-related. No, these attacks escalated after November's election, when an arsonist set the church Palin and her family attend on fire!

And the Left will continue to tear down conservatives like Sarah Palin until we fight back.

Believe me, there's nothing the Left hates more than a strong woman who's also a conservative.

I should know.

As a conservative woman I've been the target of the worst sort of hateful attacks... all from the left-wingers.

The Left claims to be "tolerant."

But I've learned from experience that they're only "tolerant" of people who fall in line with their radical, big-government agenda.

I've seen the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and other liberals work to silence and discredit conservative women including Condoleezza Rice, Helen Chenoweth, and Elaine Chao.

And I rose to defend Texas Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison when feminist Gloria Steinem called her a "female impersonator."

In my years of working in our nation's capital, I've learned that some people just hate it when conservative women do well.

These liberals need to learn that being a conservative woman isn't the same as being stupid or evil.

That's why I think our work at the Clare Boothe Luce Policy Institute is so important.

Supporting brave conservative women like Gov. Sarah Palin is why the Luce Policy Institute was founded in the first place.

We at the Luce Policy Institute stand up for freedom, free-market economics, and traditional values -- and we reject failed liberal policies.

We are training the next generation of Sarah Palins by teaching young women conservative principles, helping them plan conservative events, and introducing them to their conservative heroes.

We aggressively publish the truth about the dangerous Left-wing on talk radio, national television, and major newspapers including The Washington Times.

And our Conservative Women Speakers Program takes our conservative message to hundreds of young women around the country -- with speakers including Michelle Malkin, Phyllis Schlafly, Ann Coulter, Star Parker, and Bay Buchanan.

Sarah Palin is a proven reformer and the most popular governor in America. And she's also a dedicated wife and mother of five children.

It's no wonder she's been called "America's Margaret Thatcher."

That's why I'm so angry to hear these shameless, hate-America liberals disparage Sarah Palin.

Gov. Palin should be admired for her service to our country, not mocked for her accent, her faith, and her conservative beliefs.

But because Sarah Palin is an accomplished woman who also happens to be a strong conservative... the Left continues to attack her viciously.

The liberals love to pretend to be a friend of women and minorities.

But I think that by attacking Sarah Palin, the liberal Left revealed its terrible smoldering hatred.

For her loyal service to this country, the so-called "tolerant" liberals have made Sarah Palin the object of vile, sexist attacks.

But we at the Luce Policy Institute are proud to be at the front line advising, mentoring, and supporting conservative women.

And right now, I'm asking you to thank Sarah Palin for her strong defense of our conservative ideas by signing your enclosed NOTE OF SUPPORT.

Your signed NOTE OF SUPPORT will let Sarah Palin know that despite these twisted and hateful attacks, she still has the admiration and support of the American people.

So first, I need you to complete your NOTE OF SUPPORT and use the enclosed return envelope to send it back to me in tomorrow's mail.

And second, please include a donation for $25, $35, $50, or as much as you can spare to help the Clare Boothe Luce Policy Institute.

Your gift is fully tax-deductible, so I hope you will consider giving a generous $75, $100, $250, $500, $1000 or more.

Gifts of $25 and $35 are just as needed, and I can assure you that every penny will be frugally used as we write op-eds for major newspapers, discuss public policy on radio and television, train tomorrow's conservative leaders, and alert others to these attacks on conservative women.

Please don't put this letter down without taking action.

Sincerely,

Hon. Michelle Easton, President
Clare Boothe Luce Policy Institute

P.S. Today I need you to take just 60 seconds to sign your NOTE OF SUPPORT for Sarah Palin and let me know if you'll help the Luce Policy Institute with your gift of $25 or more. Thank you, and God bless.
